Cover Story - Catapult Mail

By Jerry Piotrowski

Before the development of long range aircraft capable of transporting goods between Europe and North America mail had to be carried aboard transatlantic ships.

In 1929 the Norddeutscher Lloyd shipping line developed a novel way to reduce the time it took for transatlantic mail to reach its destination.

Two of their liners, the Bremen and the Europa, were fitted with Heinkel HE12 seaplanes and catapult equip

Introduction to...Online Research

By Michel Houde

This is an extract from a seminar that was scheduled to be presented at the Mississauga show of April 4th.

With the majority of us stuck at home for the foreseeable future, I would like to share several online resources I use for research and recreation.

Let's start with the basics:

GOOGLE

When searching Google, use the

Advanced search– note all the things you can set to refine your search:

https://www.google.ca/advanced\_search

There is also Google Book, which is very different from the ordinary Google. Again, use the advanced version:

https://books.google.ca/advanced\_book\_search

From the Grand River Valley Philatelic Association:

President's Message:

It is hard to think of our hobby when the world is reeling from Covid-19. I send my hopes that you and your loved ones are all unaffected by this terrible virus. May we see each other and enjoy our hobby again in happier times

Joe Servos

From the Editor:

Hi Everyone!

First, a quick "Thank you" to all of my contributors. Please send more! I am in need of an Introduction to... for the next issue, along with general articles. I would also appreciate suggestions for column topics you would like to see.

As you may have noticed from the front page, I am going to be introducing a new feature: Classifieds! For $5, I will include up to 250 characters for 5 issues, or until you tell me to pull the ad, whichever comes first. (Let's keep these stamp / philately-related, please?)

On a less cheerful subject, some of you may be feeling a bit overwhelmed right now. I know I am. I also can't help but see some disconcerting parallels between the current situation and some of what I've seen in my research into WWII Canada for my Ration Stamp collection.

As then, Canadians today can and will do what we're called to do, even if all that is, is to wash our hands frequently and practice 'social distancing'.

I want to stress that 'social distancing' doesn't mean you need to do without social interaction - it's just going to be a bit different!

You may or may not have heard, but several internet service providers (Rogers, Telus and Tek Savvy, if I recall correctly) have stated that they will offer unlimited internet during this crisis. (Or, at least until the end of April - check with your provider to confirm their offer!)

Take advantage of this to:

- Video call friends and family using Skype or Face Time or a similar app;
- reach out to others through email;
- do some online research. Take a look at Michel Houde's Introduction to Online Research, starting on page 1, for some hints on where to get started; and
- watch those YouTube videos!

Here's a challenge for all of our clubs: Organize an online talk or seminar.

You can use a free service like Zoom. Or post a non-interactive presentation on YouTube. If you think it might become a regular thing, look at other services like GoToMeeting. Some plans start at less than $20 per month for the host, and you can have up to 250 attendees for free.

Let me know when and where these are, and we'll try to get them on the calendars on the GRVPA website, or mention them in the next issue.

Maybe this is your chance to re-connect with members who can't make it to meetings.

Please note: this isn't an endorsement of any of the services mentioned above; I'm just naming some I've heard of to get you started.

ment. Once the ship was within the aircrafts capabilities from the destination the catapult would launch the aircraft along with its cargo of mail. This typically reduced the time it took for transatlantic mail to reach its destination by about 36 hours.

The service continued to be used during the summers from 1929-1936. The development and use of longer range aircraft made the catapult service obsolete.

While this crisis lasts, there will be a link on the home page of the GRVPA website to a list of cancellations. Please check these before you travel.

The Grand News will continue to be published five times a year. The deadline for the June / July / August issue is May 22, 2020.

Stay safe, everyone.

Introduction to...Online Research

By Michel Houde

Say there is the fantastic website you use, but it has no 'Search' feature. What to do?

Unless the webmaster has blocked Google, a regular google search will find what you are looking for, if it exists, but it might be buried among tens of thousands of results from thousands of websites. Here is how to get only the results for that favourite website:

Go to Advanced Google: https://www.google.ca/advanced\_search?hl=en

Let us say that your favourite website's URL is <http://www.OnlyFunStamps.com>

Copy the URL and paste it in the box labelled "site or domain" on the Advanced Google page.

Next, enter your search, say "butterflies" in one of the boxes under "Find pages with..." and click the Advance Search blue button at the bottom of the page.

Good hunting!

Other options include:

ON-LINE DATABASE OF GENUINE STAMPS ISSUED BY UPU COUNTRIES SINCE 2002

This fantastic website maybe just what you have been looking for. Say you collect only BIRD stamps; you can search for all such stamps issued since 2002! Or, say you want to see all the stamps issued in a certain year - you can do that, too!

<http://www.wnsstamps.post>

A sample page showing the type of information contained in the database.

"Developed by the Universal Postal Union (UPU) and the World Association for the Development of Philately (WADP), the WADP Numbering System (WNS) was introduced on 1 January 2002 with the aim of creating a database of all authentic postage stamps issued by UPU member countries and territories on or after that date."

For each country is listed by year all the genuine stamps they issue. Each stamp is given a unique WADP number, date issued, the theme and subject, its size, its layout, its perforation, etc. You can also see a large size image of the stamp. In addition, the pages can be viewed in French or English.

The screenshot shows the website interface for the WNS database. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for 'The UPU', 'Activities', 'Media centre', and 'Resources'. Below this, the search results for 'CA021.02' are displayed. The results include a list of registered stamps issued by Canada in 2002, with details for the selected stamp CA021.02. The details include the country/post (Canada), date of issue (22 March 2002), primary theme (Fine Arts), subject (Masterpieces), width (40.0 mm), height (48.0 mm), denomination (1.25 CAD), number in set (1), layout/format (sheet), perforations (12.5 by 13.3), stamp issuing authority (Canada Post), and printer. A large image of the stamp is shown, and a link for 'Full Resolution Version' is provided. The website also features a sidebar with links for 'About the WNS', 'What is a WNS Number?', 'Participating countries or territories', and 'UPU Circulars'.

There's also Wikipedia, which was launched in 2001 as "... a free online encyclopedia with the aim to allow anyone to edit articles. Wikipedia is the largest and most popular general reference work on the Internet and is owned by the non-profit Wikimedia Foundation. It comprises more than 40 million articles in 299 different languages." < <https://en.wikipedia.org> >

Despite the criticism of Wikipedia, I have found it useful for names and dates which I can then double check with other sources. Also, most articles of interest to my research list references and have a bibliography.

Tips - Do not assume that articles are translated into English. I have had success searching the French and German Wikimedia sites for articles that do not appear on the English site.

Upcoming Meetings & Features:

March 17: Tuesday Evening: CANCELLED
April 5: Sunday Afternoon: CANCELLED
April 21: Tuesday Evening: CANCELLED

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Bramalea Stamp Club has suspended meetings indefinitely. Our meetings will only resume when the City of Brampton facilities reopen, and we feel it is safe for all our members to attend our meetings. Expect that it will take several weeks after physical isolation restrictions are reduced for the authorities to determine if relaxed measures lead to a second wave of COVID-19 infections or if Brampton can return to more normal operations and reopen the Recreation Facilities and allow meetings to restart. We will get through this and we hope all of you, our members and friends, will join us as soon as the opportunity to do so returns.

On a positive note, with all the cocooning these days, we stamp collectors can spend more time with our beloved hobby. The Internet is proving to be invaluable to keeping us in touch and sharing philatelic activities virtually. There are many options, but I will mention one innovation by Jane Sodero of the Nova Scotia Stamp Club. Started as an email sharing initiative by Royal Philatelic Society of Canada President Ed Kroft, Jane has created HOMEPIX 2020 on the NS club's Facebook page. Anyone in the FB community can submit a one-page exhibit, with the only rule being that it should tell a story. Just create a page, scan it as a photo (jpeg) and add it to their page. Take a look at some the stories like the playful "The Out-house Preservation Society" featuring Cinderella stamps; a philatelic tribute to 2001 A Space Odyssey; or a more scholarly page on die Proofs of Canada's 1933 Royal William stamp. Let them inspire you to create your own one-pager.

Another benefit of the Internet is that we can continue to buy and sell stamps online during our prolonged home stays. All the major auctions sites like eBay, Delcampe and HipStamp are operating and our dear post office is still delivering purchases.

Brantford Stamp Club

In February former club president Dan Coates passed away. He was an avid collector, however failing health prevented him from taking an active role of late.

The club has suspended all meetings at least until the end of April when future dates will be determined. We are hoping to reconvene on May 5th which will be our annual meeting.

We have scheduled Ruth Lefler, local historian, as a guest speaker on May 19th. Our schedule concludes with a potluck dinner on June 2nd.

Burlington Stamp Club

Members, as I sit here contemplating what to write, the COVID-19 virus is running rapidly through our world.

With very little to report and almost NO stamp meetings to talk of, there is little I can say. It seems that we really can't forecast when this will be over, so we should just try to take care of ourselves and those around us. This is a great time to think of your fellow club members who are getting on in years and remind them that the world is not as big as we think it is.

In May, if this is over, the Burlington club has a speaker coming to their meeting: Brian Hobson, who is well worth hearing.

So, until next time. Take care of yourselves and work on your collection while you stay in.

Norm Macneall. Reporter.

Cambridge Stamp Club

Our club would like to thank Jane Wilson for coming to our club to present to us her topic on Female Pioneers in Aviation On Stamps at our March meeting, and also to the Guelph club for bringing their circuit books to our February meeting.

Unfortunately, at the current time we - like most if not all other clubs locally - are suspending our meetings for a time period that nobody knows the end of yet, so there isn't much to say about upcoming events. We hope for a return to normalcy soon but cannot do anything to bring that about. We will be ready to host our annual show on September 19 if conditions are ready, but at this time even that cannot be considered definite.

Steve Klages (club Secretary)

Guelph Stamp Club – Received March 11, 2020

Our club meetings have been buzzing along nicely as we have settled into 2020. Recently, as well as the usual circulation books featuring most countries of the world, we have now included a number of books for topical collectors. There are some nice lists in the Wikipedia article on Topical stamp Collecting: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Topical\_stamp\_collecting.

Have you heard of paleophilately? Have a look at this website: http://www.paleophilatelie.eu/phil\_catalogue.html. The best known resource is obviously the American Topical Association. <http://www.americantopicalassn.org/home.shtml>

Besides looking forward to spring we are also gearing up for our October Guelphpex. This includes cajoling members into preparing exhibits and taking advantage of free advertising in community and trade publication. I have just started on this and here are a few places and links: Canadian Stamp News <http://canadianstampnews.com/events/>, Snapd Guelph (or mytown) <https://guelph.snapd.com/>. You can invite their photographer to your show. GRVPA News and web site editorgrandnews@gmail.com. RPSC web site and the Canadian philatelist <https://www.rpsc.org/>

Finally, your club may want to print ad flyers on letter sized paper and have members place these in public libraries in their neighbourhood and various community bulletin boards. Since many libraries have Scott catalogues just slip a half page ad in each volume!

Owen Sound Stamp Club

Having our exciting meetings has been a little touchy this last couple of months, with the weather as unpredictable as ever - nice and sunny one day and stormy the next!

Now, to top it off, we have this COVID-19 warning all over the world. Really scary.

Our Spring Club Fair Show, (Grey, Bruce and Simcoe Area Counties,) Club Fair of the North and Annual Circuit Book Fair to be held on May 23, 2020 here in Owen Sound, has been put on hold at this time. We're waiting for everything to turn around and get under control, rather than endanger everyone to this dangerous virus.

All Clubs will be notified by email next month, if it a go or not.

John C. Lemon

President, Owen Sound Stamp Club

Oxford Philatelic Society

Good Evening Collector Friends!

Normally, this report would have given a summary of our show. But, with only a few days warning, Oxford Philatelic Society was compelled to cancel its 70th OXPEX & 40th OTEX. We had an awesome show to present to philatelic enthusiasts with about 100 6-page frames of exhibits, 15 dealers and judges already to go.

Please reserve March 20, 2021 for our next show and bourse. We already have a new and larger venue booked for 2021. Dealers can have more than one table, great space for our exhibits and silent auction and a great kitchen area. We have a speaker scheduled as well. Our meeting schedule and annual banquet have been cancelled until further notice. So, this is good time to work on some personal stamp sorting and organization. Please everyone, keep safe and healthy!

We look forward to seeing you all on March 20, 2021, in our new and larger venue!

Please keep safe and healthy!

With kindest regards,

Henny Uyl

Saugeen Stamp Club

The Saugeen Stamp club has cancelled the monthly meetings for April & May - and our annual show scheduled for May 2nd 2020.

On March 7th, the club held a mini stamp fair - with the sole purpose of fostering interaction between members. There was lots of friendly chatter as attendees talked to others about their collecting interests - bought and or sold surplus material. The club provided lunch to all at this event. A good time was had by all!!

Walt Berry

St. Catharines Stamp Club

Like everyone else, I suspect, the latest report from our club is that meetings are cancelled until further notice, due to the pandemic.

At our last meeting, there was some excitement over a new club project involving all members, who wish to participate, and stamps from all over the world. More news will probably be shared as soon as we are able to get back to the project.

For now, everyone is looking at keeping well and keeping others well.

David Pitcher

Stratford Stamp Club

At our January meeting, two of our members brought in a portion of their extensive collection. It was quite interesting, and some purchases were made. A snowstorm resulted in a low attendance for our February meeting; we had a brief discussion on activities forthcoming and adjourned early. Our March meeting was cancelled due to Covid-19.

The annual Mayday Stratford Stamp Show also had to be cancelled due to the Covid-19 pandemic. It is hoped that everyone can get caught up on their collection at home. Please stay safe and healthy.

Waterloo Region Stamp Club

Have you seen the Google Doodle illustrating the hand washing technique proposed by Dr. Ignaz Semmelweis? As we isolate ourselves to limit the spread of COVID-19, philatelists can still enjoy our hobby in many ways.

- Research Dr. Ignaz Semmelweis. Have countries issued stamps to commemorate his contributions to hygiene and medicine? Identify other stamp releases of significant medical treatments and/or discoveries. Search your collection for related material.
- Create a single page exhibit related to this theme or another subject that interests you. (See the latest two issues of Canadian Stamp News for valuable suggestions.) Post the images created by members of your club on your club's website. This will encourage collectors to visit your website and it will promote our hobby.
- Prepare a cover design to enter in the Canadian Stamp News contest next September.

What's Up In...

- Gather and set aside stamps to donate to new collectors.
- Organize a brief "Show and Tell" presentation to share at the next successful gathering of your club.
- Most of all, send Wendi Trauzzi a thank you letter or email. Our appreciation of her excellent work as editor of the Grand News needs to be expressed sincerely and often.

Sadly, our club meeting on April 7th has been cancelled. We will continue to post updates on our website.
